SCHOOL PLACES SHORTAGE CRISIS

By Pat Jones

barking@yellowad.co.uk

BARKING and Dagenham Council is facing a crisis over a worrying shortage of school places.

The nationwide short fall of primary school places is at its most acute in the borough, where the birth rate is the highest in the country, according to the National Audit Office.

The borough had to produce an extra 101 primary school places last September and is looking at a further 672 – or 23 forms of entry – by 2020 to meet estimated population growth.

The primary school population is expected to rise by almost 50 per cent in the next ten years.

The council has revealed diminishing government funds could mean it may not have enough money to fulfil its obligations.

A spokesman for the council said: "The borough faces unprecedented demand and our modelling shows this is likely to get worse.

"Starkly, the diminishing amount of funding available from central government to meet that demand means we face a perfect storm where we will not have enough money to fulfil our obligations.

"This is the situation in all our local schools – including special needs."

He said the council has had to shift resources from maintaining or improving school buildings and infrastructure into creating enough spaces to meet demand, which means pupils being taught in buildings that are often not fit for purpose.

"We have extended existing schools, built on playgrounds and converted office blocks into schools and temporary classrooms," he added.

He warned parents and children will find it increasingly difficult to get a place in one of their preferred schools in future. However, this year 88 per cent of pupils were allocated their first choice school and 96 per cent one of their top three.

Mum chooses to teach kids at home

A MOTHER is teaching her three toddlers at home because the local education authority cannot find them places in the same school.

Mandy Stone withdrew five-year-old son John, and twin daughters Amy and Angel, aged four, from Barking's Eastbury Primary School because she claimed he was being bullied.

She complained to the Dawson Avenue school many times with no satisfactory result, so withdrew all three youngsters.

Barking and Dagenham education authority has said it cannot find alternative places for all three together because of the enormous pressure on school places.

Mandy said: "I cannot take the children to different schools, it is simply not possible to be in different places at the same time.

"The only option is for me to teach them at home."

A spokesman for Barking and Dagenham Council declined to comment on bullying but confirmed it was facing unprecedented demand for primary school places.

Let the games begin

BOROUGH youngsters will take part in this year's London Youth games despite the council refusing to fund them.

The volunteer steering group which stepped in to co-ordinate Barking and Dagenham entries has been inundated by young athletes wanting to take part.

So far 18 teams – from football to handball and trampolining to cycling – have registered with the organisers and more are in the process of doing so.

Mary-Ann Ramsey, a PE teacher at Dagenham's All Saints School, who is co-ordinating the steering group said: "I am delighted with the response we have had, "I am sure we will be able to field at least 30 teams. We have also had offers of training venues and other help."

Anyone interested in taking part, coaching or managing teams can ring Mary-Ann on 07791 189 717.

Robin Hood immortalised

THE ROBIN Hood pub lives on, even though it was bulldozed eight years ago.

The ale house has been immortalised on the pavement of a Dagenham shopping centre.

Local artist Tamara Froud has recreated the pub in thousands of pieces of tile in the shopping centre named after it.

Her pavement art uses a technique which creates an optical 3D illusion.

Tamara based her mosaic on an old photograph of the pub.

"I am always looking for a new challenge and thoroughly enjoyed my pub commission," she said.

The mosaic footpath is part of a series of improvements to three of the borough shopping centres, funded by TfL, and was officially unveiled on Tuesday.

The Robin Hood was situated at 897 Longbridge Road, and closed in 2005.

There is now a Lidl supermarket on the pub site.

Gun pair jailed

TWO men who were seen pointing an imitation gun as they waited on an underground station were recognised and arrested after their descriptions had been circulated.

Luke Slater, 21, of Rowdowns Road, Dagenham, was jailed for 10 weeks at Barkingside Magistrates' Court on Thursday May 9 after pleading guilty to possessing an imitation firearm in a public place.

Aidan Farr, 18, of Rowdowns Road, Dagenham, was sentenced to 20 weeks in a Young Offenders Institute at Barkingside Magistrates' Court a week earlier on Thursday May 2, after pleading guilty to two counts of possessing an imitation firearm in a public place.

The court heard the pair squeezed through a small gap between the ticket barriers at Dagenham Underground station on March 6.

Police appeal

Couple return from charity ship mission

A DOCTOR and his nurse wife have just returned from their latest volunteering stint on a hospital ship.

Ken and Jill Anderson have spent the last six months off the West African Guinea coast on board the world's largest charity ship.

Africa Mercy offers free medical aid and humanitarian aid to some of the poorest people on the globe.

Although Guinea's mineral wealth makes it one of the potentially richest African nations, its people are some of the most poverty stricken.

The Andersons completed their fourth medical mission – they have also served in Ghana, Liberia and Sierra Leone.

"There are number of reasons we have volunteered so many times, the most significant being the huge medical need of the forgotten poor of West Africa," said Dr Anderson.

The Africa Mercy is run by charity Mercy Ships, founded in 1978, staffed by 400 volunteers it has worked in 70 countries providing services valued at £630million and helping more than a million people.

MERCY trip: Ken and Jill Anderson

The ship was converted from a Danish rail ferry to a state-of-the-art hospital ship with six operating theatres, X-ray, CT scanner, pharmacy and laboratory.

It can take 78 in patients, has a small ITU and can sleep 450 volunteers.

Judy Polkinhorn, Mercy Ships UK executive director, said: "Volunteers are the our life line, we could not exist without them."

Ford sales up

FORD increased its car and commercial vehicle (CV) sales in April and for the year to date, compared with 2012.

The car giant's retail car sales were also up for the same period.

The Ford Fiesta was the retail sales leader, continuing to outsell its nearest rival by more than two to one.

Mark Ovenden, Ford of Britain chairman managing director, said: "April continued the positive news in the UK market that has seen Ford's car and CV models sustain their impressive sales record through 2013..

Health drive

NORTH East London NHS Foundation Trust (NELFT) has launched the recruitment drive to increase the numbers of new health visitors in the north east London areas over the next three years to help support children and families.

The boost to health visitor numbers follows a Department of Health pledge to recruit an additional 4,200 health visitors across the NHS by 2015.

Student or registered nurses, and experienced, former or newly qualified health visitors can apply.

A word from our owner

To Our Readers and Advertisers

We would like to take the opportunity of Local Newspaper Week to express our thanks to you, our readers and advertisers, for all you have done to support our town and its traders and charities.

This recession has not made life any easier over the past twelve months and the cold weather certainly didn't help during the early weeks of the so-called "Spring"! Our local traders have had to ride through this poor period, of course, as has your local newspaper.

As yet there are few signs of a sustained breakthrough from this worst recession in living memory but summer is coming and so, eventually, will the end of the downturn.

Like many of our readers and advertisers, your Yellow Advertiser has been through difficult times before. We have survived them and we'll survive this problem, as well as the special difficulties the press is facing right now.

The press will overcome this new problem, of course, as we've overcome many before it. Like many of our readers and advertisers, our proprietor was a child during the "slump" of the Twenties and early Thirties though he remembers it well.

He and many of you survived that, the bombing of London in 1940, war-time in the Army and four recessions since. We only mention this to keep current problems in perspective!

The new difficulty for the local press is that, as the result of a small minority of national papers breaking the law in relation to hacking - and those papers accepted that they were wrong - all papers, including small local weekly ones like ours, are to be "punished" for the sins of one per cent of the industry.

Local weeklies like ours are stunned to find themselves included in this but many believe this can still be put right. After all, as Adrian Jeakings, president of the Newspaper Society said: "Lord Justice Leveson found that the UK's local media had nothing to do with the phone hacking scandal which prompted the inquiry."

Indeed, he praised regional and local newspapers for their important social and democratic role and recommended that the regulatory model proposed should not provide an added burden to our sector.

He called on the Government to look urgently at what action it might take to help safeguard regional and local newspapers' ongoing viability as a valued and important part of the British press.

"Yet the deal announced by the three main political parties completely ignores the Leveson recommendations on the local press."

"The Royal Charter proposals agreed by the Conservatives, Liberal Democrats and Labour - with huge financial penalties for newspapers who chose to be outside the system and an arbitration service which would open the floodgates to compensation claimants - would place a crippling burden on the UK's 1100 local newspapers inhibiting freedom of speech and freedom to publish."

"Local newspapers remain fiercely opposed to any form of statutory involvement or underpinning in the regulation of the press.

"A free press cannot be free if it is dependent on and accountable to a regulatory body recognised by the state."

During a Commons debate, the Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg said: "Let us not forget that the hacking scandal was caused by some of our biggest newspapers, but it was still a minority of newspapers and certainly not the local and regional press, which must not pay the price for a problem they did not create."

Chairman of the Culture, Media and Sport select committee, John Whittingdale, added that: "We should recognise the vital importance of local newspapers and ensure that whatever system we introduce does not add to the burden on them at a time when they are experiencing very difficult economic circumstances."

The newspaper industry has now published its own draft Royal Charter which means The Queen faces the dilemma of being asked to approve two rival charters!

The charter proposed by the press would have investigative powers and resources to dig into cases of suspected wrongdoing, allowing it to call editors to account. Its board would be independent, its code of conduct drawn up after public consultation.

It meets the principles laid out by Lord Justice Leveson and it preserves press freedom.

Lord Leveson said in his report "By far the best solution to press standards would be a body established and organised by the industry."

The Government's proposed Royal Charter gives politicians the power to change the system of newspaper and magazine regulation - something that only 16 per cent of the public supports. By a huge margin, 67 per cent of people said that "the new press regulation system should be set up in a way that does not give politicians the final say if and when changes need to be made", which is the basis of the Independent Royal Charter proposal.

Ah! Well! Perhaps it will all come out right in the end. In any case, our readers and advertisers have bigger problems to worry about - as have we!

So thanks again for all that you do for this town. All the very best to you for this year and for the better days that have always followed a recession and will most certainly do so again this time.

Ray Tindle
Proprietor

Fraudster jailed

A ONE MAN online fraud spree netted a Dagenham father of four £79,000 of goods from Next - and an 18-month jail sentence.

Adeshola Adegit, of Coopers Close, pleaded guilty to opening 411 fraudulent online Next accounts within London and 19 within the Essex Police District.

He set up credit accounts using a variety of identities, telephone numbers and email accounts to order a wide range of goods, including clothes, electrical and home furnishings.

London boroughs where Adegit arranged deliveries between May 1 2011 and November 26 2012 included Redbridge, Southwark, Tower Hamlets, Waltham Forest and Wandsworth.

The unemployed 40-year-old had previously pleaded guilty on March 12 to opening four fraudulent internet Next accounts as well as possessing an article for use in fraud, namely a Next identity card.

A further 35 similar offences were also taken into consideration.

He was jailed at Basildon Crown Court on Tuesday April 30. A confiscation order was made to recover the £79,000.

Adegit would arrange for delivery usually at residential premises, including homes of the elderly. He would monitor his order online to find out when his parcel had arrived; if it had been signed for or dropped at another location - behind a garden gate or in a garden shed.

If challenged by the person who signed for the order, Adegit would produce a false Next identification card, say the items had been delivered to the wrong address before taking the package.

On average, Adegit would open three or four online accounts a week.

He was arrested by Essex Police on November 26 2012, after a local resident reported a suspicious man removing an item from a shed in Rayleigh.

Investigating officer DS Richard Evans of the London Crime Squad, said: "Adegit is a prolific offender whose online fraud profited him to the value of £79,000."

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts as the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. WOODFORD BACK ON THE STARTING BLOCKS

Athletics

WGEL's men's team enjoyed mixed fortunes in the opening BAL Premiership fixture of the season.

Having finished third in the Premiership last season Woodford are again this year looking to continue their run of finishing in the upper half of the top flight.

A below full strength team in some areas meant that the first fixture would always be hard work. In the end Woodford placed fifth with 265 points. Reigning champions Shaftesbury won with 351.3 from Sale on 300, Newham 296.3, and newly promoted Enfield on 291. Herne Hill the other promoted team was eighth with 197, behind Sheffield 223, and Birchfield 233.3.

Woodford performances were led by good "A" string wins for Matt McLaughlin and Jordan Kirby-Polidore. Notably, amongst a number of second places and other good performances, Matt Gunby ran well on his return to track action after focusing on triathlon for his second place, and there were further good second's for Joseph Dewar and Nick Leavey, but both sadly also picked up injuries.

Those injuries, together with misfortune in the pole vault might well have made the difference between the fifth place and Woodford finishing second on the day. Recent UK indoor 1500m U/20 record breaker, Matt McLaughlin's win came in the A 800m where in windy conditions he won a fine tactical race from the front in 1m 55.73secs – the sort of race he may well have to deal with in Championship qualifying as his season moves on.

Jordan Kirby-Polidore's fine win in the A 200m came after an earlier sixth place in the 100m with 11.10 secs (-1.2). His winning 200m time, into a headwind was 21.42 secs (-1.3 secs).

The B 200m saw international 400m man Nick Leavey return to competition after missing last season through injury. Finishing strongly, he placed second with 22.41 secs (-3.4) into a very strong headwind.

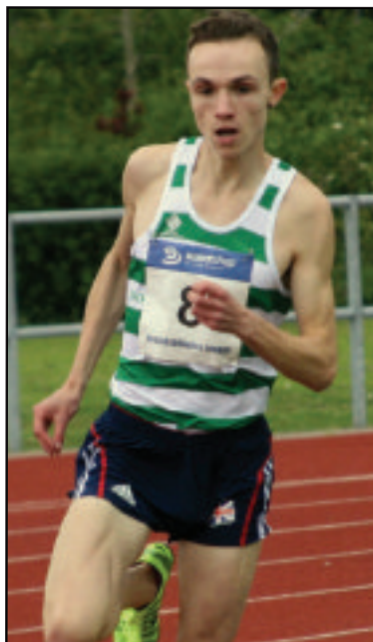

Sadly, Nick who had earlier been part of the 4x100m team, picked up a hamstring injury in the 4x400m as he moved through strongly with 150m of the third leg to run. Joseph Dewar, just 17 years old led the long jump competition until the final round, and placed second with his 7.07m effort(+2.0), a mark achieved from some distance behind the board.

Matt Gunby who has spent the last three years as an international triathlete, is now back concentrating on running. After a good, albeit injury interrupted winter on the road and country, this was Matt's first track race for some considerable time.

In windy conditions he just lost out in the A 5000m clocking 14m 43.50 secs, perhaps rueing the fact that he hadn't made his move a little earlier. In other track action, there were particularly good points in the steeplechase; the ever reliable Ryan McKinlay picking up another second place with 9m 13.01 secs.

In the field former UK number one, Andy Frost was back in hammer action after missing most of last season and requiring knee surgery. His 67.54m placed third.

Tournament in memory of young player

Rugby

Does your club want to gain £1,000 by winning a 10s tournament, which also celebrates the life of a very special young player and Army officer?

The Aaron Lewis Rugby 10s Tournament at Westcliff Rugby Club, Essex, on June 22, is a fabulous chance to get involved and enjoy some summer rugby.

This fifth annual event also comes with a significant prize for the winning team. So why not sign up now?

Founded in 2009 by Aaron's friends and family, the event commemorates the 26-year-old Westcliff player and Royal Artillery Lieutenant, who died in December 2008 while serving in the Gereskh area of Helmand Province, Afghanistan.

Aaron played wing and full back for the club and was earlier a member of the Wasps Academy. He was a pupil at Westcliff High School for Boys and Campion Sixth Form, before graduating from Loughborough University and going to the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst.

The Aaron Lewis Foundation supports charities which were close to Aaron's heart, including Whizz Kids, a disabled children's charity, which benefits from this summer's tournament. It is also seeking to set up bursaries for young people travelling abroad to do charity work.

Old boys', university, club, pub and social sides are welcome at the 10s event. This is a great way to get on board with the fantastic work done in Aaron's name.

If you would like to sign a team up or your business or organisation would like to become sponsors or give prizes please contact Patric Redding on 07939 360818 or email patrickredding@hotmail.com

Brummies challenge

Vortex Lakeside Hammers co-promoter Jon Cook expects this Friday's clash with the Birmingham Brummies to be amongst the toughest his team will face at the Arena Essex Raceway this year as his team's season starts to come together.

Cancelled fixtures have seen the Vortex Hammers get off to a slow start to their League campaign but a brace of wins last week, at Poole on Wednesday and home against Peterborough last Friday, have seen the team climb to fifth place in the Sky Sports Elite League table, just one spot away from the play-off positions.

This Friday's action will get underway at the Arena Essex Raceway at 8pm.

Motor Racing

Michael Lyons moved into the top three of the GTS Class championship standings during the second event of the International GT Open season at Portimao in southern Portugal over the weekend, thanks to his, and teammate Matteo Beretta's, second podium of the campaign.

Although qualifying proved problematic for the two AF Corse drivers, and contact in Saturday's race resulted in a bitterly disappointing retirement, 22-year-old Michael starred in the second encounter where the duo were less than six seconds shy of a maiden GTS victory.

"Sunday was definitely a good day in the office," said the Felsted driver,

"It's great to be back on the podium, we knew we were competitive from the off this weekend but a few things didn't go our way in qualifying, then Matteo was knocked out of race one before I had chance to get in the car. Race two was good though and we've made progress in the championship too which is what we needed."

Beginning the visit to the Autodromo Internacional do Algarve with a strong performance in testing, confidence was high of a challenge for the GTS class pole positions on Saturday but circumstances dictated otherwise.

For race two, round four, Michael had qualified an uncharacteristic tenth in class, 16th overall, after missing out on the lap he knew he was capable of in his qualifying session but was confident of a suitably competitive drive through the order. Progressing superbly during his opening stint at the wheel of the AF Corse Ferrari 458 Italia, the British ace climbed into fourth in GTS, sixth overall, before handing over the car to Beretta in the mandatory driver change pit-stop.

On rejoining the track, the Italian was 12th overall and eighth in class and mounted a similarly strong drive to race through into second in GTS and fourth overall by lap 20. Although pushed back to fifth by the Super GT car of ex-FIA Formula One World Championship racer Andrea Montermini, Beretta comfortably maintained second in class to the flag.

In Saturday's third round, Michael was unable to get any track time when Beretta was collected by the Corvette of Diederich Sijthoff on lap 14 of the race resulting in retirement to the pits from fifth in class, ninth overall.

Football

New U21 league to be formed

Players aged 16 and over in Essex have a new option for their football next season as discussions between the Essex County FA and other interested parties resulted in the Essex Olympian League agreeing to the formation of a brand new 14-team Under 21s Division for next season.

The formation of this division has the full support of The FA and the League's Management Committee, with teams playing on Saturday afternoons at the same times as existing divisions.

The same criteria for facilities will be required, with the exception of the requirement to have separate dressing rooms for both teams and officials.

A reasonable period of time will be given to allow clubs to comply with other aspects of the criteria, whilst existing Essex Olympian League clubs may place teams in this new division.

If they already have two teams within the constitution, they have to ensure they have facilities to accommodate two matches kicking-off at the same time on a Saturday.

There are several reasons behind this development, including older youth players not coming through into men's open-age football in the numbers they should be.

Youth players need a bridge into adult football to cope with the physicality and other aspects of the game, and this new provision provides that elevation in standard.

Clubs wishing to enter a team must E-Mail League Secretary, Kevin Lorkins, at kevinlorkins@eocl.co.uk

Grassroots survey

Players, referees, leagues, coaches and volunteers in Essex have another opportunity to share their thoughts on local grassroots football through the latest online survey organised by the Essex County FA and The FA.

By developing clubs throughout the area, as well as acting as their governing body, the Essex County FA works mostly amongst the amateur sector of football, looking for new participants and ensuring the game is safe and enjoyable for all.

The Development Team provides coaching and funding to children and adults throughout the area.

The County's 1,800-strong referee list and schools football are coordinated as well, in addition to welfare case management and safeguarding children.

The survey can be accessed at www.essex-fa.com and the deadline is June 30

Cricket

Quiney out for up to 12 weeks

Essex batsman Rob Quiney is expected to be out of action for 10 to 12 weeks with a shoulder injury.

The 30-year-old Australian was set to move to the top of the order with England captain Alastair Cook leaving for the first New Zealand Test next week.

But Quiney may need an operation after injuring himself taking a catch in the final day of the Division Two defeat by Lancashire.
